Comprehensive Will for an unmarried person (WL004)

This Will is designed for someone who is not married or joined in a civil partnership, whether or not they have a partner and whether or not they have any children. It allows you to make as many gifts of money or specific items as you would like to as many persons and organisations as you would like, such as to Irish charites and amateur sports clubs etc.. You are able to leave the remainder of your estate after making any gifts (i.e. the residuary estate) to as many persons and organisations as you would like, either in equal shares or in varying percentages. You can also name your executors and, if required, their substitutes, appoint guardians for your children, make provisions for the care of pets, specify burial arrangements etc..
